President's Message

Why pay fees to have a Checking Account?

We all hate fees! No one wants to see their hard-earned money chipped away for no practical reason. And few topics have received more press in the financial news than how heavily consumers have been battered with fees.

So why do most people keep their checking accounts at major banks, where they're hammered month after month with fees and stiff requirements? In its 2012 Checking Survey, the independent firm Bankrate once again confirmed the dramatic differences between how banks treat their customers and credit unions treat their members (don't forget that as a member, you own the Credit Union).

For example, the survey showed that 82% of credit unions offered free checking, compared to just 39% of banks. The average minimum balance required in an interest-bearing checking account to avoid a fee was $1,010 at credit unions – more than $5,000 lower than the $6,118 bank average. And much of the banking sector seems intent on continually raising those fees.

But let's get specific – what about your Credit Union? UECU offers several checking options and the EasyCheck account is truly a totally free account. And it's not a bare-bones account either – the benefits are impressive:

- No minimum balance
- No monthly fee
- A free Advantages VISA® Check Card™ that earns reward points
- Up to $8 per month in ATM surcharge rebates – and you can use nearly any ATM in the country
- Free online Advantages Bill Pay™
- Your first set of checks is free
- An active checking account qualifies you for a 0.25% APR rate reduction on most consumer loans
- Never a charge for direct deposit or for writing too many checks

If you can keep a higher balance in your account, UECU's other checking options provide even greater benefits. For example, earn meaningful interest rates with Advantages Money Market Checking™ (presently up to 1.00% APY). Or receive even more in ATM surcharge rebates if you're at least age 50 (Priority Checking) or under age 26 (Connections™ Checking).

So why pay fees to your bank for a single month longer? Take a few minutes now to learn more about the choices available through your Credit Union. Speak with a UECU Member Service Representative at 800-288-6423 or visit www.uecu.org and click on "Checking." You really will be glad that you took time to switch.

Best wishes,

Glen A. Yeager
President/CEO

Fast, convenient and a safe way to access your UECU accounts. No need to write a check or go to the ATM, just use your Advantages VISA® Check Card™ wherever VISA is accepted.

Harvest Time Savings

For those who are always looking for thrifty ways to feed the family, autumn is the perfect time to celebrate savings. Buying locally-grown produce during the harvest season offers you opportunities to enjoy fresh food, support your regional economy, and avoid paying the added cost of imported groceries. If you didn't have time to plant your own vegetable garden this year, seek out local farm stand bargains or a local farm cooperative program where you receive an ongoing supply of fresh veggies and farm goodies for the whole season. Don't know where to go? Use the website www.LocalHarvest.org to discover local food sources including farms, farmers' markets, retailers, and community-supported agriculture programs, located in your area. Then start enjoying a tasty and frugal fall season!

The screenshot shows the LocalHarvest.org website. At the top, it says "LocalHarvest real food. real farmers. real community." with a navigation menu including Home, Shop, Farms, CSA, Forum, Events, Newsletter, Blogs, Photos, and a "New Members sign up here" link. Below the navigation is a "Food Farm Events" calendar for Sep-2013. A map of the United States shows various food sources marked with icons for Farm, Farm Market, Restaurant, Grocery, and Other. A search bar is present with the text "Where? Reading, PA" and a "Search" button. On the right, there's a "What are you looking for?" section with radio buttons for categories like All, Online Store, Farms, CSA, Farmers' Markets, Restaurants, Grocery/Co-op, Wholesale, Meat Processors, and Others. Below that, there are "Featured Products from our Online Stores" including "Fresh (Khalal) Dates" and "Purple Passion Fruit".

Current and future homeowners, the time to act is now!

In recent weeks, conventional mortgage rates have begun to climb, nearing their highest levels in the past 2 ½ years, as the 30-year rate has approached 5%. From a historical perspective, an interest rate of 5% is still attractive compared to rates that were 6% and higher as recently as 5 years ago. As the economy slowly improves, home prices are also beginning to increase – the Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) has reported a national increase of 7.2% in home prices over the past year. With rising mortgage rates and home prices in mind, now is the time to act if you are in the market for a new home or thinking about the purchase of a vacation home.

In the current rate environment, many members who are current homeowners have recently refinanced their conventional first mortgage loans into UECU home equity loans because of low fixed rates and low (or no) closing costs. In some cases escrow and Private Mortgage Insurance (PMI) were eliminated, the term of the mortgage was reduced, and the rate was reduced. This all equates to members saving hundreds, perhaps thousands of dollars – and being able to own their homes free and clear sooner!

Whatever your situation, UECU has an assortment of real estate loan solutions so we can find the solution to fit your needs. We offer a range of conventional mortgage products for the purchase of a new home or for refinancing your current home. If you are in the market for a new home or vacation home we also offer pre-qualifications to assist you in the home buying process.

UECU offers attractive low rates on our home equity loan products. With a Home Equity Loan you could refinance your current mortgage into a low-rate fixed term loan for terms of up to 20 years – and with a Home Equity Loan or Home Equity Line of Credit, you could borrow funds for home improvement costs, consolidation of higher rate loans or credit cards, college expenses, or that dream vacation.

Talk to one of our friendly and knowledgeable Financial Services Consultants at 800-288-6423, ext. 4001, (day or night, 7 days a week) or visit our website at www.uecu.org to apply for a real estate loan online. Act now to take advantage of the great rates and competitive loan products that your credit union has to offer!!

Leaving For Sunnier Places This Winter?

Avoid having your UECU financial statements and tax forms returned to sender.

Did you know? Every January, hundreds of member tax forms are returned to UECU by the Post Office for members with a “Temporarily Away” postal status. If you spend winter (or any other seasons) away from your home address, please help yourself and the Credit Union by sharing your seasonal address and/or choosing to receive UECU’s free, paperless E-Statements and Tax E-Forms. You’ll avoid any delay in receiving tax forms and filing your taxes – and the successful delivery of your forms will save the Credit Union substantial postage costs. E-Statements and E-Forms provide you with instant, secure access to your documents – plus, you’ll receive VantagePoints™ for every Member and VISA E-Statement you receive!

If you still prefer to receive paper statements by mail, and your address does vary with the seasons, please provide UECU with updated address information. You may change your current address on Advantages Online™ when you relocate or authorize your change of address in writing. Use the Seasonal Address Form included with your September paper or electronic member statement to provide your seasonal addresses in advance – then you can simply call us when you’re leaving or returning to town and we’ll switch between the addresses you have on record.

UECU thanks you for ensuring your address records are up-to-date!
