B. Important Considerations

- If removing an individual(s) from this account, we recommend you change your Advantages Online™ and PAL™ passwords to prevent unauthorized use by the former joint owner(s) of the account. To prevent unauthorized use, UECU will remove all Home Banking access from this account unless authorized by an owner to continue the service. Please initial here to continue Advantages Online™ and PAL™ access: _____. (If any owner is under age 13, an adult joint owner must sign a consent form to enable access to Advantages Online™.) Please check here to request a consent form be mailed to you.
- If you are receiving E-Statements, please be sure the email address on your account is correct and not a former joint owner's email address.
- Please remember to change the beneficiary of any IRA or Saving Account Trust, if necessary.
- If there is a checking account under this member number, we will cancel any Debit Cards or ATM Cards in the former joint owner's name. Please make sure you have all unused checks in your possession.
- If the joint owner being removed from the UECU account is also the owner of an external account linked to this account, the external account will be removed unless a new ACH Authorization Agreement is completed.

C. Signatures of Remaining Owners (Owners being removed should only sign in the section A above.)

By signing below, you acknowledge you have read and understand the Important Considerations section of this form. You acknowledge that all identifying account information such as account number and/or checking account number, that the removed joint owner had previous access to, will be remaining the same. You acknowledge the risk of unauthorized changes or transactions occurring due to the identifying account information remaining the same. In the event the removed joint owner gains access to the account, and performs an unauthorized change or transaction, you agree to hold Utilities Employees Credit Union harmless from and against any losses or other damages that occur. If you do not wish for your account information to remain the same you may contact the credit union for further details.
